*The artwork was created as part of an IHOBFDallas Action for the Arts[®] Visual Arts Project that brought together students, teachers and other adults from across the community to create a visual artwork celebrating music and imagination. Participating student groups included: Greenhill School, T.J. Rusk Middle School, and Booker T. Washington High School for the Performing and Visual Arts. The adult group was comprised of House of Blues-Dallas Foundation Room members and community artists from the Creative Arts Center and Texas Sculpture Association. The project was led by Emmanuel Gillespie, a well-known Dallas artist

Action for the Arts is an IHOBFDallas initiative that raises awareness about the importance of the arts, creates opportunities for youth to perform/exhibit their artistic works in public settings, and provides musical instruments and art supplies for school arts programs.

About the IHOBFDallas: The IHOBFDallas is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization dedicated to bringing the arts to schools and communities through programs that promote cultural understanding and encourage creative expression. IHOBFDallas is supported by House of Blues, House of Blues Foundation Room members, Live Nation and other donors. Visit us at www.ihobfdallas.org
